1 Introduction to Techsol's Support Offerings

To enhance our customers's ability to fulfill their missions, Techsol provides tailored support services. These services range from the provision of standard warranties, included with every purchase, to enhanced support programs and full, turn#key design services.

While standard and extended warranties provide the end user with coverage for repair services, enhanced support programs provide each customer with a tailored service that addresses their specific needs.

Whether it be standard, e#mail support, enhanced telephone support, or the engineering design services, these flexible support services are designed to ensure a specific customer's requirements are met.

Note:

You get 1 month of Premium Support plus 2 months of Standard Support for FREE with your first development kit purchase.

2 Standard Support

- Includes e#mail Support
- Sold in monthly increments
- Response time is normally less than 24 hours, often under 1 hour!
